Old Second Bancorp introduces NetTeller Internet Banking

9/5/2000

September 5, 2000, Aurora, IL (Old Second News) --

Old Second Bancorp released NetTeller, its new Internet Banking solution for individuals and businesses on Labor Day weekend, 2000. NetTeller will take the place of Old Second's previous online banking solution, O2 PC-Bank, and will extend the flexibility to the Internet.

According to Dan Pollack, the bank's Manager of E-Services, "We expect NetTeller to be a very valuable tool for our customers. As a real-time solution, NetTeller will give our customers up to the minute account information that will allow them to better manage their financial picture."

NetTeller is offered free to Old Second customers and provides special features for the bank's commercial customers. Electronic Bill Payment is an optional add-on to NetTeller, offering customers the ability to send payments to any recipient in the U.S.
